Timeline

What We Aren't Asking Today

Phasing

Timeline and phasing are important parts of the construction process, but can be discussed later

Budget

Money will ultimately drive much of our decision making, but the numbers presented today are not final or set in stone

Details

Details such as paint color, finishes, exact layouts are all subject to change once planning on individual projects start

Points of Emphasis

Unified Entrance

A clear entrance is helpful for guests and creates a common gathering point

Accessibility

An accessible space allows us to serve people of all ages and abilities well

Unified Kid's Space

A single area with elementary and preschool together is easier on volunteers and parents

Student Center

The updated student center will have finishes that inspire and speak to the passion this ministry brings to its congregation.

Education / School

The future addition will allow for education and meeting spaces which can be used as a school during the week.

Gymnasium / Multi-Purpose

The gymnasium will be the next place where services will take place and in the future it can continue to be used as a multi-use center.
